PEECA SAVE UP Programme Guidelines for Electric Motor Model Registration

How to register your Electric Motor Model

Check List to Start Registration:

Before filling out the SAVE UP electric motor model registration application, ensure you have the following items ready:

1. Supplier Registered Certificate C-1:

This is issued by PEECA upon supplier registration and is unique to each supplier. It is required for the registration of electric motor models under the SAVE UP programme.

2. Product Specification Data Sheet:

The Product Specification Data Sheet provides detailed information about the model you are registering. This document is crucial to understand the technical aspects and characteristics of the electric motor model.

The data sheet typically includes, but is not limited to: technical specifications, e.g. dimensions, power ratings, efficiency metrics, material composition and construction details.

3. Test Report:

To complete the registration process, a test report for each electric motor model (or family) must be attached. A valid test report can be sourced from in-house laboratories, government-owned facilites or private labs and must have been conducted within the 6 months prior to the date of this registration. The reference test standards for these laboratory tests are included in the Partner Agreement for Electric Motors.
